Summary of topic:

Call of the wild takes us on a journey of discovery- launching our topic with our very own Survival day!

Children take part in a simulation where their plane has crashed in the Amazon (Ferndale forest), will they be able to learn vital skills to survive like: build a shelter, make a camp fire, cook their own food, find a source and filter water by orienteering a map of the local area? Now fully equipped with the ability to survive in the wild, our study takes us to learn about the circulatory system and heart health with our 'survival of the fittest' sciences investigation. We will explore how animals across the globe have inherited characteristics that enable them to adapt and survive in the wild. We will finish our study of animals with making animal masks decorated with animal prints and patterns!

and think low and think high.
Oh, the thinks you can think up
if only you try!"

- Dr. Seuss
