

Week 5 Tuesday Guided Reading.

We are learning about Goldilocks and the Three Bears in English this week. Can you pretend to be a character from the story and write a postcard to your friend telling them what you are doing and where you are? You can draw your own postcard at home.

A large rectangular frame containing a postcard template. In the top right corner, there is a red circular stamp with a building illustration and a red postage stamp featuring a woman's profile. The left side of the frame contains seven horizontal lines for writing a message. The right side of the frame contains four horizontal lines for an address, separated from the message area by a vertical line.
