

Ferndale Primary and Nursery School

Headteacher: Mr Gary Evans

Ferndale Primary And Nursery School - Wiltshire Avenue

Swindon - Wilts - SN2 1NX

Below are some links that you may find useful:

www.common sense media.org Common Sense Media site reviews videos, games, books, websites etc to help parents and children know which ones are safe to use.

www.getsafeonline.org 'Get Safe On-line', gives answers to many questions, via 'Terry Tablet' who answers any questions, informative videos and includes an update on current on line issues and scams.

www.thinkuknow.co.uk ThinkUKnow is the education programme of the Child Exploitation and Online Protection Centre aimed at young people. It is based around three key themes:

- How to have fun
- How to stay in control (or how to take control)
- How to report a problem

www.stoptextbully.com resources on this website include a Top 10 Tips poster for young people and a school resource pack 'Putting U in the Picture'.

www.childnet.com plenty of advice and teachers' resources. Look for the 'Prank or Pain' link through their 'Know it All' project link.

www.iwf.org.uk Internet Watch Foundation – support website with information on filtering, protection, and an area to report illegal content.

www.kidsmart.org.uk part of the Childnet stable of websites, dealing with Internet safety programmes for schools, young people and parents.

www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/keeping-children-safe/online-safety/ NSPCC have teamed up with O2 to help you keep children safe when they're using the internet, social networks, apps, games and more.

www.saferinternet.org.uk/advice-centre/parents-and-carers Their advice and resources are here to support parents as they support their child to use the internet safely, responsibility and positively.

<http://www.ilovedaisychain.com> Daisy Chain is the follow up to the acclaimed Children's book 'Dandelion'. The story of 'Daisy Chain' follows a little girl named Buttercup Bree who just doesn't fit in. She spends her day plucking Daisies and creating chains in the hope of spreading a message of togetherness to the bullies that watch her every step. The story has been narrated by oscar-winning actress Kate Winslet.

Ferndale Primary and Nursery School

Headteacher: Mr Gary Evans

Ferndale Primary And Nursery School - Wiltshire Avenue

Swindon - Wilts - SN2 1NX

If you are on Twitter the following sites provide advice and support:

@ThinkuknowUK Online safety information and advice for young people from @CEOPUK

@CEOPUK CEOP is dedicated to tackling child sexual exploitation and abuse, online and offline. Visit thinkuknow.co.uk for information, advice and resources.

@childnet A non profit organisation working with others to help make the Internet a great and safe place for children.

@NSPCC Anyone worried about a child can call 08088005000. Everything they do protects children, prevents abuse and transforms society so it's safer for all children.

@bullyinguk Bullying UK, anti-bullying support and advice, part of @FamilyLives offering a free helpline 08088002222.

@IM_org Empowering Britain's parents and teachers to make confident, informed choices about their online safety.

@UK_SIC Partnership of @swgfl_official, @childnet and IWF hotline. Helping young people to stay safe online

If you have any e-safety concerns, you can contact your child's class teacher or Miss Horrobin, Mrs Prevost or Mrs Chase via the school office.